FROM THE CAPE SHORE

Sch. Corsair at Boston with Season's First Trip.

CRAFT FULL OF MACKEREL.

Has 300 Barrels Salt Mackerel and 275 Barrels Fresh.

Sch. Corsair, Capt. George Hamar, of this port, arrived at Boston yesterday afternoon with the first Cape Shore mackerel trip of the season. The vessel was full from end to end, Capt. Hamar hailing for 300 barrels of fresh mackerel and 275 barrels of salt mackerel. The fresh mackerel brought 11 cents apiece and the stock will be in the neighborhood of $5300.

This is the most remunerative trip of the season thus far, as well as one of the largest, and Capt. Hamar is to be congratulated on his good fortune.

He reports that the first school taken on the Cape Shore this season was on May 19, near Liverpool, N. S. He got his last school on Friday afternoon and loed them and ran for market. The weather on the passage home was blowy and foggy, and Capt. Hamar is of the opinion that the vessels have had no fish weather since he left.

He reports about 25 sail to the eastward of Halifax, near Sambro, on Friday. There was quite a lot of fish and some of the vessels did well.

The fish were going to the eastward very fast. He had not spoken many of the fleet and did not know what they had, but some had done well.

The Corsair will bring her salt mackerel to this port. Her trip is the earliest fare from the Cape Shore for many seasons.

Sch. Ralph L. Hall was at Canso, N. S., on Thursday with 300 barrels of salt mackerel. Capt. Hall took out a license and bought more barrels.

Several of the seining fleet are home from the southward this morning. They report that for the last five days they have not had a chance to look for mackerel as the weather has been very blowy and foggy. The skippers think, however, that there are some fish off Brenton Reef lightship if they can only get weather to look for them.

Several of the seining fleet harbored at Newport yesterday.

Sloop Pearl is at New York this morning with 3000 fresh mackerel.

About 50 sail of the American mackerel seiners made their appearance off Isaac's Harbor on the eastern coast of Nova Scotia last week. The Canadian cruiser Acadia has sailed to see that the Americans do not take fish inside of the three mile limit.

Schs. Lewis H. Giles, Speculator, Harriet W. Babson, Monarch, Edna Wallace Hopper, Constellation, Grayling, Ramona, Alice S. Hawkes, Dauntless, Priscilla Smith, Bessie M. Devine, Lottie G. Merchant, Nourmahal, Annie M. Parker-Kearsarge, S. F. Maker, Golden Hope, Electric Flash, Latona and Scythia were at Canso on Friday.
